35th District Agricultural Association

FFA Ag Mechanical Science

From woodwork and welding to creative sculptures – Half Dome Hall is a must stop on your trip to the Fair!

Farm Junk – Yard Art Sculpture Contest | Not sure what to do with all the random stuff you have lying around? Well then this is an exhibit you can't miss. Advanced artists and amateurs, young and old, will create sculptures of any medium in hopes of taking home the People's Choice Award.

Future Farmers of America (FFA)

Members' skills will be on display in a new location this year!

That's right. Stop by the Half Dome Hall to see the hard work of the FFA members who are actively learning what it takes to develop, maintain and refurbish equipment for specialized farm, ranch and agribusinesses. Larger projects will be on display just south of the Outdoor Theatre!

This year's divisions include:

- Cold Metal
- Electrical
- Rope work
- Sheet Metal
- Welding and Forging
- Woodwork
- Combination

Special Awards category winners will receive a silver buckle; those categories include:

- Outstanding Welding Exhibit
- Outstanding Woodworking Exhibit
- Most Innovative/Original Exhibit
- Outstanding Exhibit

Then a FFA Chapter Sweepstakes Award is given to the FFA Chapter with the highest amount of premium money. A FFA Chapter Group Award will go to the FFA Chapter with best five projects entered as a group.

Wine Tasting Area | Amateur wine makers submitted their wines in many varieties, including Cabernet Sauvignon, Zinfandel, Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, as well as other white and red varieties. Come taste some of Merced County's best homemade wine selections!

NEW Ag Mechanics Auction & Sales Program

An auction will be held, exclusively for those exhibits who earn a first place (Danish System) ribbon. Participating exhibits are responsible for entering project into auction and must establish a reasonable minimum or starting bid based on the value of their project. Items will be sold in the Hilmar Cheese Barn.
