Makers Marketplace

Featuring handcrafted products produced by local Central Valley vendors

Returning for its second year in a row to the Merced County Fair is the Makers Marketplace, which will exclusively feature local vendors from all over the Central Valley! Located in the San Joaquin Hall, this storefront-like marketplace provides a venue for local vendors to showcase their handcrafted products (everything from food, jewelry, art and more!) to more than 70,000 Fairgoers during the 2025 Merced County Fair presented by Valley Children's Healthcare.

"We're excited to welcome back the Makers Marketplace to the Merced County Fair after its successful debut in 2024," said Teresa Burrola, CEO of the Merced County Fair. "The Fair is a fantastic opportunity to spotlight our incredible local vendors, giving them a platform to showcase their products and reach a wider audience. The Makers Marketplace is especially valuable for small businesses, as it allows them to participate without the commitment of a five-day fair presence. I can't wait for our vendors and community to experience all that the Makers Marketplace has to offer this June!"

Here are some of the vendors you can find in the Makers Marketplace. For a complete list and photos, please visit www.mercedcountyfair.com/makers-marketplace-list.

BoKin Creations | BoKin Creations, inspired by the names of grandkids Bowen and Kinsley, offers a delightful range of vinyl-crafted items. From fun games and tissue holders to unique egg cartons, wine and shot glasses, tea towels, potholders, and more, there's something special for everyone!
